Tutoring Experience

I've been teaching English for 9 years, working with students from IB, A-Level, and IGCSE curriculums. My focus has been on guiding students through complex literary texts, helping them develop their critical thinking and writing skills. Many of my students have successfully improved their grades and gained confidence in their analytical abilities.

I have extensive experience working with IB students, focusing on both Language and Literature courses. Over the years, I've helped students understand and interpret challenging texts, preparing them for IB exams and assignments with confidence. My students have gone on to achieve top scores in their assessments.

In addition to IB, I've also worked with students pursuing A-Level and IGCSE English, guiding them through essay writing, literary analysis, and exam preparation. My experience with multiple curriculums has equipped me with the tools to support students from diverse educational backgrounds.
