Tutoring Experience

I have been teaching chemistry for 10 years, working with students across IB, IGCSE, and A-Level curriculums. My focus has always been on making challenging topics like organic chemistry and chemical reactions understandable, resulting in improved exam performance for my students. My work includes helping students bridge gaps in their foundational knowledge and preparing them for their final exams with confidence.

In addition to my school-level tutoring, I've also assisted students preparing for AP Chemistry, ensuring they master the key concepts required for top scores. My experience spans working with students from diverse backgrounds, consistently helping them achieve excellent results in their academic journeys.
